IIL ANNOUNCES WINNER OF PRESTIGIOUS KERZNER INTERNATIONAL PROJECT MANAGER OF THE YEAR™ AWARD

International Institute for Learning, Inc. publicly recognizes professionals who exemplify outstanding project management skills and techniques

New York, NY, November 11, 2009 – International Institute for Learning, Inc. (IIL) is pleased to announce the winner of the 2009 Kerzner International Project Manager of the Year Award: Terrance Dugan of Oracle. This highly-respected accolade recognizes a project management professional who demonstrates superior performance and innovation in the field and who has made a significant contribution in a business, industry, government, community or not-for-profit environment.

Established in 2006, the Kerzner International Project Manager of the Year Award is named in honor of Dr. Harold Kerzner (Ph.D. and MS in engineering; MBA), Senior Executive Director at IIL. Kerzner is a globally recognized expert and best-selling author on the subjects of project, program and portfolio management, total quality management and strategic planning.

To be eligible for nomination for the Kerzner Award, candidates must possess the Project Management Institute's Project Management Professional (PMP®) credential or the equivalent and may be associated with any industry or sector from anywhere in the world.

This year's winner Terrance Dugan is a Consulting Project Manager with Oracle Consulting North America. He graduated from Boston College with a BA in computer science and earned his MBA from Suffolk University. PMP certified, Dugan has over 15 years of experience implementing CRM, Back Office and custom solutions. He lives in Wilmington, Massachusetts with his wife Mary Ellen and their two children.

The Kerzner Award was presented to Dugan jointly by Dr. Kerzner and E. LaVerne Johnson, President and CEO of IIL during a live global webcast celebrating the sixth annual International Project Management Day™ (IPM Day) on November 5, 2009. "Winning the 2009 Kerzner Award is a true honor," said Dugan. "I would like to express my sincere thanks to Dr. Kerzner, LaVerne Johnson and the entire team at IIL. The support of my managers at Oracle, my project team and the Oracle PMO was essential to my success and this award belongs to all involved."

Reflecting on his experience at the IPM Day webcast, Dugan remarked, "It was a privilege to meet Dr. Kerzner and discuss the intricacies of project management with the master.

Participating in the live webcast with the exemplary panelists was a humbling experience and it will stand out as one of the highlights in my project management career. I look forward to exploring the new professional experiences which may come my way as a result of the Kerzner Award."

"We are delighted to have Terrance as the Kerzner Award winner this year," commented Johnson. "He is a resourceful and innovative project manager, with a real specialty in recovering troubled projects. His intuitive ability to listen and ask the right questions enables him to lead his project teams to success."
