

Scholarship Fund for Project Management Students Established

International Institute for Learning, Inc. (IIL), funds program through the PMI Education Foundation to Honor Dr. Harold Kerzner

February 19, 2008, Newtown Square, P.A. – Students pursuing a university-level degree in project management or a related field will be eligible for scholarships through the newly established Dr. Harold Kerzner Scholarship Fund. The endowed scholarship fund was created by International Institute for Learning, Inc. (IIL) through the Project Management Institute (PMI) Educational Foundation.

“Sponsorship of scholarships for students studying project management is one of the best investments an organization can make. Through the Dr. Harold Kerzner Scholarship Fund, IIL has donated $1 mil. to further this initiative and we are very thankful for their generosity, as well as for the example that it has set for others,” said Gregory Balestrero, chief executive officer of Project Management Institute (PMI) and chief operating officer of the PMI Education Foundation. “As demand for qualified project management personnel increases worldwide, education is the key. We must have professionals who understand how to apply accepted project management standards to deliver projects on time and within budget on a consistent and predictable basis.”

Beginning in September 2008, the Dr. Harold Kerzner Scholarship Fund sponsored by International Institute for Learning, Inc. will provide four $7,500 (US) scholarships annually to deserving college students. Dr. Kerzner, PhD, MS (engineering) and MBA, is senior executive director for project and program management, IIL, and professor of business administration at Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea, Ohio, USA. He is an expert in the areas of project management, total quality management, and strategic planning. Dr. Kerzner is the author of a number of best-selling project management textbooks including Project Management: A Systems Approach to Planning, Scheduling, and Controlling (now going into its tenth edition).

“The contribution of Dr. Kerzner to both the profession of project management and to the education of project managers around the world is enormous,” said IIL President and Chief Executive Officer E. LaVerne Johnson. “We can think of no better way to honor his work than through the legacy of this endowment. We are delighted to partner with the PMI Education Foundation, knowing that scholarships awarded from the Dr. Harold Kerzner Scholarship Fund will enrich the lives of students of project management for decades to come.”
