Optimized for Delivering Value

Creating value is a critical objective for continuous business improvement and making progress.

At IIL's International Project Management Day 2022 Online Conference – Optimized for Delivering Value, we will explore the many facets of value creation. Learn the project frameworks, skill sets, and actionable steps you can take to be optimized for delivering value.

PMI credential holders can earn up to 26 PDUs, and in addition to the conference itself, all attendees will receive complimentary enrollment to two free self-paced courses developed by IIL.
