OUR VALUES

Intelligence. Integrity. Innovation.

At IIL, “Intelligence, Integrity and Innovation” is more than just our motto – it is a statement that defines who we are, what we do and how we do it. These three core values inform how we interact with clients and with one another, forming the foundation for how we conduct our business all over the world.

Intelligence

We believe in the fundamental importance of learning and strive to continually increase our own knowledge. We do this by listening, asking questions and integrating what we learn into our everyday lives. We learn from and respect the cultures in which we work, and we know that every person's voice is important.

Integrity

We place a premium value on honesty and integrity. Taking responsibility for our actions and learning from our mistakes drives us to continually improve our performance. We believe in collaboration and know that it is built on trust and mutual respect. We run our business in an ethical, sustainable, and socially responsible way.

Innovation

We are thinkers and strategists as well as creative problem solvers. We see challenges as opportunities, striving always to do our work as efficiently and effectively as possible. We know that discovery drives innovation and are not satisfied with the status quo. We keep our finger on the pulse of the global marketplace, seeking to anticipate our customers' needs and exceed their expectations.

ASSESSMENTS

360° COMPETENCY ASSESSMENTS

ILL's family of 360° Competency Assessments can help you measure proficiency levels, identify skill gaps, and highlight areas of strength and opportunity on both an individual and organizational level.

Five unique Competency Assessment products:

- Project Management
- Program Management
- Portfolio Management
- Business Analysis
- Leadership
- And the 360° Agile Competency Assessment is coming soon!

ILL's unique and highly customizable competency assessments allow your organization to define the strategic competencies and targets per job role, gather 360° feedback from assessors, identify where the competency gaps are, and prioritize where to invest on skill improvement – in other words, improve the training ROI by defining the right training, for the right people, at the right time. Detailed individual and organizational reports are provided to support decision making.

Featured Course! Mastering Hybrid Approaches for Projects

Did you obtain your PMP® before January 1, 2021? If so, IIL has launched a new program specifically for you, Mastering Hybrid Approaches for Projects! This unique program provides you with structure and firsthand experience with regard to waterfall, hybrid, and agile approaches in project delivery.

IIL's Mastering Hybrid Approaches program provides both context and practice across all aspects of the value delivery system including waterfall, hybrid, and Agile approaches.

This program provides options that span the value delivery spectrum for developing scope, estimating, managing schedules, and tracking progress. You will practice many skills, such as:

Organizing scope with WBS, prioritizing it with a backlog and leading the day-to-day work with a task board. Integrating iterations and releases into a high-level predictive schedule. Exploring servant leadership and self-managing teams. Delving into leadership skills such as emotional intelligence and decision making. By the end of this decade, we can expect 20-30 flexible project management approaches to appear. Hybrid project management will become the future of project management whereby the project teams extract the best features from each flexible approach and create a methodology that best fits the project at hand. To be successful today, project leaders need to apply critical thinking to know when to use a predictive approach, when to apply an adaptive approach and how to combine them into a hybrid approach to meet the needs of the project and the organization.

Hybrid project management will become the integration and customization of best practices into project management. By attending this program, you will be better prepared to apply agile and hybrid concepts. Stay ahead of the curve and register today!
